OBJECT LESSON: LEARN ABOUT STARS

On a night when there are no clouds in the sky and you can see all the stars go out and stare up at the sky. Our sky is full of stars. One is usually brighter than the others. It is the North star. See if you can find it? This star is in the North. This star can help you figure out where you are like the GPS your mom/dad uses. Our stars also make patterns or pictures in the sky. They are called constellations. It kind of looks like connect the dots. One of the constellations we can see on a clear night is the Big Dipper. It looks sort of like a soup ladle. See if you can find the Big Dipper. there are many constellations in the sky, some of them are in the shape of animals or people or things.
